R-Money launches multi-currency card for overseas travellers

Mumbai: Reliance Money, an Anil Ambani Group company, on Monday said it has launched a multi-currency card that would offer facility of purchasing goods and services through Visa enabled point-of-sale terminals and ATMs globally. Reliance Money Travel Currency Card has been launched in collaboration with Citibank and targets overseas travellers, as a superior alternative to travellers cheques, Reliance Money said in a statement. "Issued by Citibank, the card offers all the conveniences of plastic money by allowing customers to purchase goods and services by swiping the card over 13.5 million Visa enabled point-of-sale terminals worldwide and 900,000 Visa ATMs across the world," Reliance Money said.
