Reliance Communications ties up with ICC for rankings

■ MUMBAI: Reliance Communications has tied up with the International Cricket Council for the next eight years as the title sponsors of the ICC rankings. "The rankings will be known as Reliance Mobile ICC Player, Test and ODI rankings," it was announced at the function in which the top two Test and ODI teams were declared and honoured by the International Cricket Council. Ricky Ponting was present to receive the award for Australia, which emerged as the number one Test team and number two ODI squad, and the cash prize of $250,000 combined from ICC CEO Malcolm Speed. India, who ended up second behind Australia in the Test rankings, were represented by their coach Gary Kirsten.
